Fall Groundwater Level Percent Change from 2008 to 2019

well from 2008-2011 compared to the average ground water level from 2016-2019 and displayed as a percent change. Red and blue indicate wells outside of one standard deviation, while green and yellow fall within one standard deviation. The mean is an -7.2% change from the two timeframes. The defined fall months are October, November and December.